Thinking Out Loud

(By H. M. L.)

Of all the neglected Orphan Annies the Downieville State Highway is the prize waif. The road of a thousand curves is not only a menace to every driver who traverses it on account of its narrow twisting and turning, but last winter's heavy rains undermined the outer bank in places and there are points on the road where slides have taken place. Any driver off guard for a moment stands a good chance of dying at the bottom of a canyon. If Earl Lee Kelly would only keep some of his pre-election promises — but what's the use.

Virgin Island officials, all appointed by the Administration, have fallen out with each other, and have been telling tales before a Senate investigating committee. The press, with impartiality, has been reporting the juicy details of the Virgin rows, and one reporter went so far as to engage in fisticuffs with one official, Paul Yates, putting a beauty halo around his opponent's left optic. Yates was obliged to testify before the Senate committee with this interesting souvenir much in evidence. The Virgin Islands seem pregnant with trouble.

The Senate is investigating lobbies, pro and con, engaged in a cloak room battle to beat the "death sentence" bill to end utility holding companies in seven years, or to enact it. It is to be hoped Congress will find means to put lobbies out of commission for keeps. If it were down, government by minorities would end. But it is a mere hope. The third house is in Washington to stay. Its activities may be hampered but never halted. In the meantime the investigation, of course, puts a smoke screen across the real issue. That is, whether Samuel Insulls in the future will be permitted to ruin thousands of stockholders by pyramiding one holding company upon another on the backs of operating companies, until life and dividends are sweated away.

Altruistic America may boil with indignation that strong Italy is about to override weak Ethiopia and impose an enforced mandate on that unfortunate nation of black people, but we feel confident that Uncle Sam will do nothing about it. We have had one disastrous experience in assisting to rid France of the Germans, and France is so grateful that it has repudiated its debt of some billions to this country. If we helped Abyssinia to keep out the Italians, we would have to take our pay, undoubtedly, in gratitude and very little of that. Italy, and probably other nations, would hate us cordially. We have played international policeman, with some national advantage, in the New World, but we certainly have no business in European and African controversies.

What we have done in three hundred years to the red men in this country, Italy now proposes to do suddenly to Ethiopians. As a matter of fact, Abysinia is the only country of any extent that still practices slavery. The Italians have already seized on this as a reason for taking over the country. Cynically we regard this as pust another pious pretext. Italy is intent on building up a colonial empire, and means to do it regardless. Abyssinia is rich in natural resources and the Italians will exploit them, unless England really interferes, or war breaks out in Europe before the conquest is made.

The University of California has installed a belt conveyor in its magnificent library. During rush hours to give quick clearance to the 2500 odd volumes that are borrowed daily, the conveyor will expedite delivery. No device has yet been invented, however, for quickly conveying the wisdom compressed in good books into the human mind. For most people it is a matter of patient delving and slow transmutation of book materials into practical life material.

Dr. J. M. D. Olmsted, professor of physiology in the University of California is enroute to Moscow where he will attend the conclave of the Fourteenth International Physologists Congress, to be held under the auspices of the Soviet government. Here is another opportunity for red hating fanatics to stand out in front and scream denunciations. A university teacher goes to Moscow, the world's capital of communism! And we may be sure of this, the more ignorant the red baiters and haters, the louder the yells.

COUNTERFEIT $10 IN CIRCULATION HERE, WARNING

E. M. Rector manager of the Bank of America of this city today issued a warning against counterfeit $10 Federal Reserve notes. Several have been placed in circulation in this county. The notes are slightly smaller than the genuine notes. The printing is poorly done and has a faded appearance as compared with the genuine. The picture of Alexander Hamilton which appears on the counterfeits has more the appearance of a woodcut, slightly blurred, as contrasted with the steel engraved portrait on the genuine bills. If any one s hould be in doubt regarding these ten dollar notes, they are asked to step into the bank before accepting them and have the notes examined. So far as known the $10 notes are the only counterfeit notes in circulation in this vicinity.

SERA CREW WILL CLEAR PIONEERS PARK OF WEEDS

The Pioneers Cemetery has been made a SERA project and tomorrow a force of men will start work there, to clean out the weeds and wild growth, to straighten sagging and fallen grave stones, and generally to restore this historic resting place of the pioneer dead to good order

Among those revered pioneers who are buried there is Capt. Henry Meredith. He was captain of Nevada County's Militia and district attorney. During the Indian uprising whidh for a time threatened the very existence of Virginia City in the Sixties, the Nevada County militia were called out. Meredith, who happened to be in Nevada at the time joined them and was killed in a battle at Pyramid Lake, Nevada. His remains now lie in Pioneer cemetery.

David Johnson, deputy sheriff, who lost his life November 6, 1856, in a gun battle in Gold Flat, with desperate prisoners escaped from the county jail, also reposes in this cemetery, of the pioneers. The news of his death and also that of Sheriff Wright, came just as a Democratic procession was moving down Commercial street. The marchers threw their torches in the street, and the meeting scheduled was abandoned.

Less well known than his father, General John Sutter, a son, Alphonse Sutter, also rests among the distinguished dead of Pioneer cemetery.

The cemetery is to be fenced and it is proposed, in so far as possible, to keep vandals out of it.

PRELIMINARY WORK AT MT. VIEW MINE STARTS

J. F. White and family, consisting of his wife, and three sons, arrived in Nevada City last evening from Bevelley Hills enroute to the Mountain View mine above Washington on the South Yuba. Mr. White took over this property last year and considerable work was done in rehabilitation and building of cabins as surface works had been burned in a fire several years ago.

All lumber for immediate needs, consisting of five truck loads, has been taken to the property. Preliminary work at the property starts this week and plans are to install a 50 ton mill in the not far distant future.

Due to serious illness of family members Mr. White has had considerable delay in getting to his property this season.

WILLIAMSON TAKES OVER SERVICE GARAGE

The Nevada City Service Garage on the corner of Pine and Spring streets operated by Elkus and Williamson, is now owned by Stenger Williamson, he having bought his partner out on June first. It continues to be one of the busy garages in this city.

PARROT KNOWS HER RIGHTS AND GETS 'EM

Polly, a pet parrot owned by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Stedham, who lives in the old Dow property just across from the swimming pool, often takes a ride down town on the back of the car seat, never leaving her perch while the family goes about shopping. In 1929 she was on an eight months trip that took her almost from coast to coast. Last year she was on a five months trip and has learned, that whenever the family starts picking up their belongings she is ready, and hops up on her seat.

She goes any place in the yard at home and is never caged except when very naughty. She can and do many things a young child can.

Polly even tries her luck at gardening. Recently Mrs. Stedham was weeding in her garden and upon reaching the end of the row glanced back to see Polly following her and she had pulled up every spear of corn in the row.

She has been in the Stedham family over 13 years and eats nearly everything, meats, vegetables, cereals, sweets, her favorite pie being custard and cocoanut. She has a peevish temper. She calls Mrs. Stedham Mother. When given cereal without milk and sugar, she will drop the spoon which she holds tightly in her foot, and exclaim: "Oh mother!" as she throws it down. Polly holds a cup in her claw and drinks from it. She will pick up the cup and say. "Come on mother," wanting something to drink. She follows Mrs. Stedhaw about the house and yard and if out alons is closely guarded by a large pet cat.

NEVADA CITY TO GIVE CARD PARTY SCOUT BENEFIT

While next Wednesday night it is expected that at least 400 card tables will be engaged, and 1600 card players will be busy with them, playing a great benefit for the Boy Scouts who are going to Washington, D. C., as delegates to the National Jamboree in August, in Nevada City a similar movement is afoot for the purpose of financing the Nevada City nominee.

Within the next two or three weeks a card party will be held in Armory Hall, all the proceeds of which will go to the fund for sending two or three scouts from this city to the great jamboree.

The committee which has charge of this event consists of Elza Kilroy, chairman, John O'Neill, Dr. C. W. Chapman, H. M. Leete, and Miles Coughlin. It is anticipated that civic and patriotic organizations in this city will each sponsor a certain number of tables.

SULTRY CLOUDY SUNDAY BRINGS JULY SHOWER

The dark threatening clouds over Nevada City Sunday afternoon brought a very light shower, but a downpour of rain was reported at Emigrant Gap and heavy showers at Lake Tahoe. Local residents saw a wide brilliant rainbow to the east just before sunset. The temperature was hot and sultry with the thermometer registering around 95 degrees.

The Tahoe National Forest Service office in this city was notified of a fire in the Haypress country in Sierra county early this morning and sent out two men at once. It is understood lightning struck an old snag and it caught fire. At this time the extent of the fire is not known.

AMERICAN FLAG MINE

James Grimes, part owner of the American Flag mine, above Camptonville returned to the mine today after a week end spent in Nevada City. He has let a contract to three men who are drifting east in a new tunnel which is in about 80 feet, cross cutting to cut contact. The contact runs through the property with three distinct ledges on one side and two on the other. In former drifting operations cross cutting was done for a distance of 480 feet.

Hot Weather Sends Peak Throng to Pool

The automatic sweeper which will do much to clear the water in the municipal baths arrived this morning on the Narrow Gauge. This macaine purchhsed as a result of the benefit given some three weeks ago by the Women's Civic Club, works on the same principle as the ordinary electric carpet sweeper. It is used in the morning after the sediment has settled during the night and draws off the water from the bottom of the pool.

The pool will be emptied Wednesday night and will be given a thorough cleaning next Thursday. During Thursday the pool will be closed.

This afternoon a rehearsal took place for the big water pageant, the chief feature of which will be an aquatic drama entitled: "Showing Neptune." The water pageant will be given July 26, week from next Friday night. Tickets are now on sale at the municipal pool at 25 cents each. Seating arrangements will be made to accomodate a large crowd on the two terraces to the south of the pool.

Probably the largest crowd yet recorded plunged into the municipal pool this afternoon. Addison Janes, life guard, estimated that 300 were in the pool enclosure at one time. The attendance for the day will undoubtedly total 450.

Those who were opposed to the building of a municipal pool should visit the park and hear the noisy bedlam made by happy children as they dive an dswim in this magnificent community "swimmin' hole."

NEW LAW WILL END MILK WARS DAIRYMEN HOPE

SACRAMENTO, July 15. — The first step in the California program of stabilizing the marketing of fluid milk under new legislation recently made effective by the governor's signature was taken July 10 when representatives of over 200 dairymen who ship milk to the San Francisco marketing area met with Director of Agriculture A. A. Brock in San Francisco.

The purpose of the meeting was to nominate candidates for the places on the proposed San Francisco local fluid milk control board. Producers of more than 65 percent in number and in fluid milk production in the San Francisco area made application to Director Brock, in accordance with the new emergency milk law, to create a board which would be empowered to enter into a marketing agreement affecting the marketing of approximately a million and a half gallons of molk per month. Producers in fourteen counties contribute milk to this area.

The San Francisco area is the first to take advantage of the machinery of the new law, which added a new chapter to the Agricultural Code, and which became effective June 1. Under it, 65 percent of producers producing fluid milk commercially for sale within any marketing area, and producing not less than 65 percent of the volume produced commercially for such area, may apply to the Director for nomination and appointment of a control board which will form and administer a marketing plan or agreement. Twenty nine persons were nominated for places on the San Francisco area board. From these, the Director will choose a board of not less than seven nor more than thirteen members. The board, chosen by the Director from those nominated, may formulate a marketing plan or agreement, and no distributor may lawfully purchase from a producer who does not comply with the provisions of the plan while in operation.

Rebates, gifts, special privileges, false advertising and discrimination are practices previously prevalent but not outlawed.

All distributors in the marketing area in which the board and its plan become effective must be licensed, and must conform to the law and to the agreement.

The milk industry looks with hope to this new law which provides a voluntary choice of a plan, which, once adopted, becomes a compulsory program of stabilizing of the marketing of fluid milk and fluid cream. The industry looks also with interest to the mandatory application of standards of fair trade practice set up by another law, signed by the governor July 6, and immediately effective. Everyone hopes that the development of these laws and their application will end once and for all disastrous milk wars, cut-throat competition, and unfair trade practice, thus stabilizing and regulating one of California's most ital industries.

AMATEURS WILL HAVE THEIR DAY AT BIG FIESTA

Christian Andersen, general director of the San Juan Ridge Fiesta stated today that all obstacles for the event have finally been swept aside.

Mr. Trubschenk spent several days in Oakland to make the final arrangements and lumber will begin to arrive on the grounds for the new hall at North San Juan early this week and the carpenters will soon have it up.

Andersen also says that this is no small affair but that it will be a modern up to the minute event in which all who partake can feel pridefull. The amateur contest rules will be announced soon. The prizes will be worth going after and the auditions will be under way sometime the latter uart of next week. Singers and instrumentalists either solo or in groups will be acceptable. Those selected will be presented in metropolitan fashion with attendant publicity and perhoos professional appearances. The latter will depend on arrangements made this week.

Those who wish to enter may apply by mail only to Christian Andersen, Box 295 evada City, Calif. A date will then be given for their audition.

Do not call in person until you have your notice to appear, as it will cause confusion. Don't forget you must be an amateur. No professionals will be permitted to enter.

Hanraty, DeLuxe Coupe; Charles Jay, Ford Pickup; Kenneth Hood, Ford Roadster. This makes a total of eight cars or a car a day for the new place of business. E. D. Paxson in charge of the new shop is greatly pleased with the sales and sees a splendid future for the Ford agency in this city.

WRESTLING THURSDAY PROMISES GOOD SHOW

Dorry Ditton and Rod Fenton, the main eventers at next Thursday's wrestling matches at the Memorial Hall are two opposites whose contrasting characteristics promise to make a good show. Ditton is a clean scientific wrestler, while Fenton, a Canadian, is a rough, tough wrestler.

A similar contrast is shown in the semi final pair, Pete Becker, of Nebraska, being another rough and tumble fighter, while his opponent from Utah, Lou Mueller, is an excellent scientific wrestler.

Sutey and Southerland should put on a clean fast bout. Both men weigh around 185 pounds and are favorites with the fans.

DRIVER ACCUSED OF KILLING GOES TO TRIAL HERE

Richard H. Williams, charged with running down and killing Russel Miller, July 9 on the Colfax highway went on trial this morning before Judge Raglan Tuttle of the Superior Court. He was represented by Attorney W. E. Wright, District Attorney Stoll conducted the prosecution.

Practically the entire day was spent in selecting a jury. The venire of 40 was quickly exhausted and the sheriff was asked to bring in a special venire of twelve more. Six of these were chosen from Nevada City and six from Grass Valley.

According to reports made by officers investigating the tragedy, Williams, 24 years of age of Dutch Flat, ran Miller, 20 years of age, down while the latter was trying to signal him with a flash light, and obtain assistance in pulling another car out of the ditch which Miller and his father had stopped to help. It is alleged that Williams hit the parked car, partially wrecking it, and killed Miller.

DONATIONS NEEDED TO FINANCE BAND CONCERTS

Everybody enjoys the band concerts, given under the direction of L. E. Sweeney, music director of the Nevada City high school, but it is necessary that some money must be raised to pay for the music they use, wear and tear on uniforms and miscellaneous expenses. The city council has done its part and started the ball rolling by contributing $25 and now it is up to individual citizens to donate as much as they feel that they can spare toward the $100 which the band and the director should have for the summer series of concerts.

Elza Kilroy, chairman of the committee, which has this matter in charge, asks that all those who enjoy these band concerts will call on him at the postoffice and leave with him whatever donation they feel that they can spare. Every little helps.

V. F. W. WILL STAGE BIG CARNIVAL AND DANCE

Plans are going forward nicely for the big carnival and dance to be given by Banner Mountain Post, V. F. W., in Red Men's Grove in Nevada City on August 11. An interesting feature will be the street parade to be staged in Nevada City and Grass Valley just preceeding the carnival. The veterans are selling tickets that entitle parties to attend the carnival and dance and take chance on a seven tube, world wide reception radio, to be given away the night of the big affair. Tickets are good on the radio whether in attendance or not.

DEATH SUMMONS MRS. AMY MILLIRON

Mrs. Amy Eva Milliron, aged about 58 years. passed away at 524 Pine street in Nevada City at 9:45 last evening. She was born in Joplin, Mo., and with her husband came to this city about two weeks ago in the interests of her health, it is reported.

Among relatives left to mourn her passing are her husband, Frederick Milliron and daughter, Mrs. G. E. Bangs of this city. The body is at Holmes Funeral Home awaiting word from relatives, but it is believed the funeral will be held at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

BRUSH FIRE BREAKS OUT ON DEER CREEK

Just as the paper goes to press, State Ranger William F. Sharp and crew of men from the State Camp south of Nevada City, rushed through town to brush fire and grass fire on Deer Creek about three miles west of this city. The fire is only a small one and it is expected that Mr. Sharp and crew will soon have it under control.

The Blinded Testify

(Contributed)

Not so long ago chemists discovered a drug that would literally burn the fat from a person's body. They called it dinitrophenol, and soon afterward it became available to the public at drug stores.

Today several women in California are walking about in total darkness, temporarily blinded because they took this drug in an attempt to reduce rapidly.

That such a thing could happen among civilized people who are supposed to have set up at least elementary safeguards of health, is almost unbelievable.

Where were our state and national drug laws, when these women were buying this drug with good faith in someone's assurance that it was harmless, properly used?

The twelve known cases in San Francisco bay area were brought to public attention the other day only because scientists of Stanford University began a study of the effects of the drug. Unquestionably dozens more have suffered.

Scientists, always hyper-cautions, would not come out and say flatly that the drug had caused the blindness. But they did advise against its use. And cause and effect in these cases are pretty obvious.

All twelve women had taken the drug, all twelve had gone blind temporarily, and all twelve were living normally otherwise, with the exception of dieting. Have you ever heard of dieting causing blindness?

The unhappy truth is that our drug laws, as well as our pure food laws, are sorrowfully inadequate. Quack drugs, harmful, fake remedies with the enforcement of quack doctors and the sanction of the law are still freely sold, in spite of the popular illusion that laws protect us in these matters.

Blindness, disease and premature death will continue to result unless public opinion demands that California, at least, enact an intelligent law, and see that it is intelligently administered.

Meanwhile the best we can do is to watch what we buy, develop a healthy mistrust of labels, and try to know what we are eally getting.

BOOK CHATS

(By ABIGAIL J. STACKPOLE)

"The World's Messengers" and "Travel By Air, Land and Sea" are books for young men and women who will find in them a veritable mine of information. And all these facts are presented in a delightfully simple style, while the entire book is generously sprinkled with amusing anecdotes. No inquisitive youngster or oldster, either, is likely to lay aside these books without reading very word in them.

In "The World's Messengers," Hanson Hart Webster traces the evolution of communication from the grunts and gestures of the cavemen to picture- writing on walls and stones; thence to the alphabet, the printing press, the various systems of signaling, and finally to the wireless. He tells of the contribution of Marconi and DeForest to the wireless; he tells about the radio, the telephone, the first Atlantic cable, and he gives us the history of airplanes and their use in sending news all over the world. He tells about trains, boats, stage-coaches, ox-teams the pony express, the carrier pigeon, and man as the first messenger.

We learn that a telegram sent from New York, reached Sydney, Australia, in three seconds. And Mr. Webster says:

"On an average 985 telephone conversations are taking place every second throughout the twenty four hours of the day. This is only in the United States."

We learn of the many uses of rapid communication; how lives are saved, business transacted, and wars sometimes averted.

In "Travel by Air, Land, and Sea" Hanson Hart Webster gives a complete history of transportation. But instead of beginning with the first pack animal, man, the author starts us on an airplane ride. Right away, we are told how men learned to fly, and we are told about some wonder flights.

"In 1919", says Mr. Webster, "two Englishmen, Alcock and Brown, made the first non-stop flight across the Atlantic from Newfoundland to Ireland."

We learn of a squadron of biplanes flying around the world on a good-will tour, in 1924; we are told again of Lindbergh's flight across the Atlantic, and of many other brave men and women fliers.

After the subject of airplanes and fliers, comes baloons, then the story of railroading, tracing the development of the train from the old, wood burning locomotive and stagecoach cars to the modern, streamlined cars.

We leave railroading and explore highways and waterways, bridges and tunnels; we travel on boats and barges, on all sorts of add craft, in all sorts of strange places. We then journey in horse drawn vehicles, in wagons drawn by oxen, in sledges drawn by dogs, or reindeer, or we ride on a camel or an elephant. Indeed, we leave no possible means of conveyance unexplored.

It is to be hoped that these books will be translated into every written language, thus giving boys and girls of other lands the pleasure that the reading of them is undoubtedly giving young people of the English speaking countries.

WEEKLY COMMENT
BY
Christian Andersen

If temperature had anything to do with columns a fellow ought to be able to write a perfect sizzler, at the moment the red column stands at 100F.

Just everyday happenings. Out on my staff-of-life route, late on account of a flat tire Saturday morning, and with a big load, I went blithely sailing toward Downieville. About five miles out the attempt to pass a slow moving coupe with five men aboard was made. Suddenly an oncoming car hove into view and although nearly past the car it was deemed best to pull in behind and pass later. Then it was that my brakes failed to properly respond and I shot for the moon after shift into second gear and with split-seconds against me tore through the small hole and by the grace of Providence made it, the brakes have been fixed.

The singer of the family and myself went to North San Juan to attend a benefit party. When we got there yours truly had already been elected master of ceremonies and with the microphone trying to outstare me and with knees in reverse vibrato, I went to work. But I am still of the opinion that the monicker should have been Monster of Ceremonies. However, the ridge people were so darn nice that I admost felt as though they liked the idea and we all had a lot of fun.

One indication of returning economic recovery is that people are interested in amusements, such as dances and shows. They willingly spend money for these things. Also better shows will draw a capacity house any time and community productions are more eagerly anticipated than ever before. It is as if after a tremendous arduous desert journey we have come to the oasis. The best part of this indication is that popular morale is returning with a grand vigor.

Peculiar edibles of other countries are usually interesting and here is a believe-it-or?not dish! Rye bread with a thick coating of bacon grease with lots of brown sugar on top. Even the king of Denmark takes this snack seriously.

A. M. TOM
HERB SPECIALIST
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:—
For years I was a sufferer from constipation. My blood was out of order and my kidneys and bladder bothered me terribly causing dreadful back-aches. On top of all this I had female trouble.
I tried several doctors but none helped me. One recommended an operation which I dreaded as a previous operation did not help me.
One day my husband noticed A. M. Tom's advertisement and suggested that I visit him. Having taken Herb treatments for five weeks, I am well again, and able to go back to work.
I cannot praise A. M. Tom too highly and if you are suffering I honestly recommend you to see him as I know what he has done for me, he can do for others.
